

2nd Transuniversity Colloquium – Natural Gas

University of Cologne,

Albertus-Magnus-Platz, D - 50923 Cologne

Date: 21 October 2005

Subject: European Gas – Current and Future Developments

Program:

10.30 – 11.00	Welcome Coffee
11.00 – 13.00	First session
	Introduction
	Franziska Holz: "Will there be enough for everybody? – A simulation analysis of the long term market in the Atlantic Basin"
	Svetlana Ikonnikova: "Strategic coalition formation and investing in Eurasian gas supply network"
	Yaroslav Minullin "Modelling of investment decisions in gas pipeline networks – North-East Asia regional case study"
13.00 – 14.00	Lunch
14.00 – 16.00	Second session
	Marina Tsygankova: "Domestic constraints: affecting Russian natural gas export to Europe"
	Tarjei Kristiansen: "Hedging locational price differences"

Nadine Haase: "The politics of regulating European gas markets"

Claudia Vasquez: "Transatlantic Natural Gas Price Convergence – Is LNG doing its Job?"

16.00 – 16.30 Final discussions, planning of next meeting

16.30 – 17.00 Visitation of the Cologne Laboratory for Economic Research

Participants:

Stefanie Kesting	International University Bremen (BEI)
Prof. Dr. Christian von Hirschhausen	TU Dresden
Anne Neumann	TU Dresden
Franziska Holz	DIW Berlin
Marina Tsygankova	Statistics Norway/DIW Berlin
Andreas Seeliger	Universität zu Köln (EWI)
Dr. David Bothe	Universität zu Köln (EWI)
Martin Keller	Universität Freiburg
Nadine Haase	University of Twente
Svetlana Ikonnikova	Humboldt University Berlin
Irina Suleymanova	Humboldt University Berlin
Dr. Tarjei Kristiansen	KEMA Consulting, Bonn
Dr. Konstantin Petrov	KEMA Consulting, Bonn
Dr. Felix Höffler	Max Planck Institute, Bonn
Claudia Josse-Vasquez	IFP/EdF
Yaroslav Minullin	IIASA Wien