The ifo Institute, Dresden Branch, and the Technische Universität Braunschweig are pleased to announce the 7th ifo Dresden Workshop on Regional Economics. The workshop aims at facilitating the networking of young scientists and at promoting the exchange of their latest research across the range of regional economics, persistency in regional inequality, regional structural change and place-based policies. Policy relevant contributions, both theoretical and applied, are highly welcome. We particularly encourage PhD students and post-doctoral researchers to submit their current research.

Each paper will be allocated 45 minutes, to be divided between the presentation, a short discussion by an assigned workshop participant and a general discussion.

There is no workshop fee. However, participants are expected to cover their own expenses for travelling, accommodation and the joint informal dinner on September 28th.

Submissions:

Please submit your (preliminary) paper by July 31st, 2017. For submission, please click here. Alternatively you may access the CESifo website and go to forthcoming conferences. There, you click on the conference name, which will lead you to the submission page.

Acceptance decisions will be announced in the mid of August.

We are looking forward to seeing you in Dresden.
