

Deutschlandstipendium TU Dresden – Scholarship application 2020/2021

The TU Dresden expects to announce 250 scholarships of the Deutschlandstipendium within the framework of the national scholarship programme for the academic year 2020/21. With the Deutschlandstipendium scholarship TU Dresden promotes talented and high-performing students in any subject of study with exceptional personality traits and social commitment. Enrolled students and university applicants of the TU Dresden can apply for the Deutschlandstipendium, regardless of nationality and previous educational achievements. All applicants should be enrolled or planning to be enrolled for at least one semester (6 month) beginning in October 2020.

The scholarships are primarily awarded according to the performance and talent of the applicants. Along with good performance in studies also the following conditions are considered: special achievements, awards, a preceding professional activity and internships, social commitment, particular personal and family circumstances as well as university's political and external engagement.

The monthly scholarship of 300 euros is granted for a period of two semesters and can be extended. 150 euros are paid by the federal government and 150 euros by private sponsors such as businesses, foundations, associations, alumni or other private persons.

Application requirements:

- being enrolled at TU Dresden in Diplom, Staatsexamen, Magister, Bachelor, Master studies or
- intending to enroll at TU Dresden for at least one semester and fulfilling the entrance requirements

Application period: 1st - 15th July 2020

Appropriation period: 1st October 2020 - 30th September 2021

Scholarship amount: 300.00 Euro/month

Scholarship holders have the opportunity to submit a renewal application for an extension of the funding period. Funding can generally be granted up to and including the last semester of the standard study period of the study programme.

The scholarship is disbursed monthly and awarded as grant that does not need to be returned. It is awarded irrespectively of the students' income or the income of the students' parents and not credited against the Bundesausbildungsförderungsgesetz (BAföG).

The Deutschlandstipendium is compatible with a few other funding schemes for example the DAAD Program STIBET. Please see the "overview of parallel scholarships" at the FAQ page on the Deutschlandstipendium website for more information or contact the International Office at the TU Dresden. Non-German students, who are selected for a Deutschlandstipendium scholarship at TU Dresden, can apply for financial support for travel expenses incurred. Please contact us via email at deutschlandstipendium@tu-dresden.de to get more information.
