

Friends and Patrons of the Center for Regenerative Therapies Dresden e.V.

The Association of the friends and patrons of the Center for Regenerative Therapies Dresden e.V. was funded in Dresden to encourage research, communication and cooperation in the field of regenerative therapies

To achieve this, the friends and patrons declared the financial and the scientific help of students and scientific staff of the CRTD as well as the encouragement of international and cross-national cooperation in the field of bio medicine as their main goals. How is that done? The association of the friends and patrons helps members and institutions on scientific tasks and activities. It hosts conferences and seminars and tries with various other projects to generate a general acceptance of the public for the research in the field of regenerative therapies.

This is mainly realized through scholarships, financial support of guest scientists of the TU Dresden and publications. When it comes to the support of spin-offs or simple scientific events the association provides logistic help as well as a platform for joint-ventures to exchange experiences and to improve skills.

The most important element of realization in all these cases is a central communication platform. Gaining financial support for an integration of such a platform within the new CRTD building is going to be one of the first issues the association will have to deal with.

And you can help too. By being a member of the friends and patrons of the Center for Regenerative Therapies e.V.. Your membership would help to implement the named goals and ideas of the association and to advance and push the research in the field of regenerative therapies.
