Additional Information

- You find an overview of the modules and corresponding courses in your study regulation and on your faculty/institute's websites

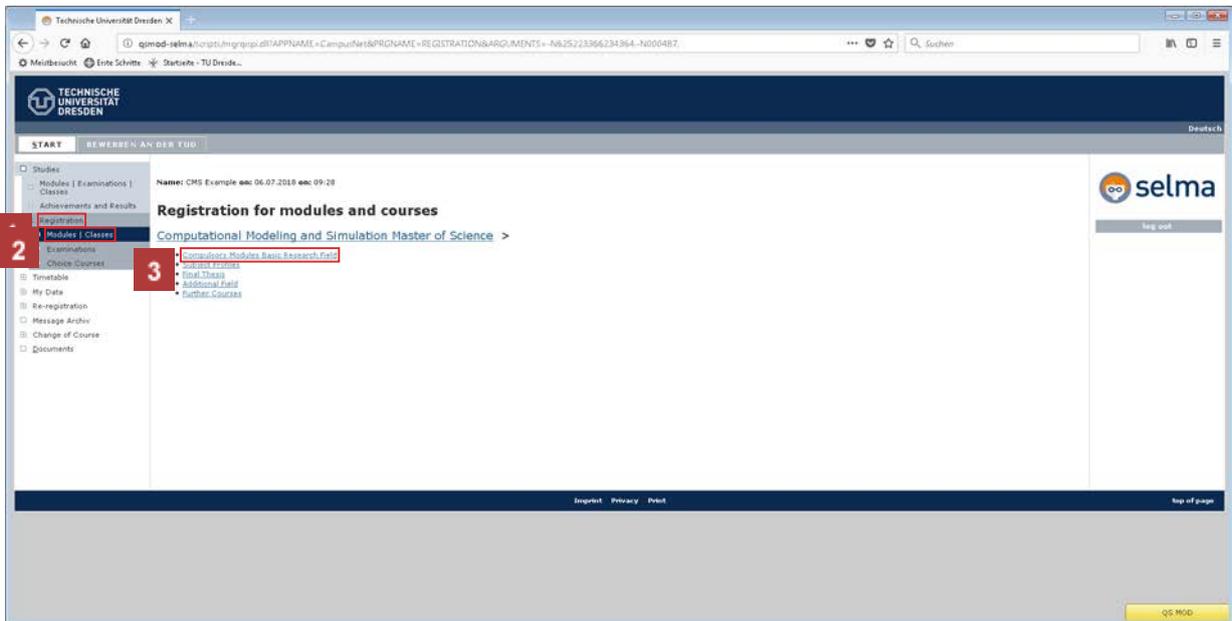

For the sake of the environment please use the E-Learning platform und do not print this document.

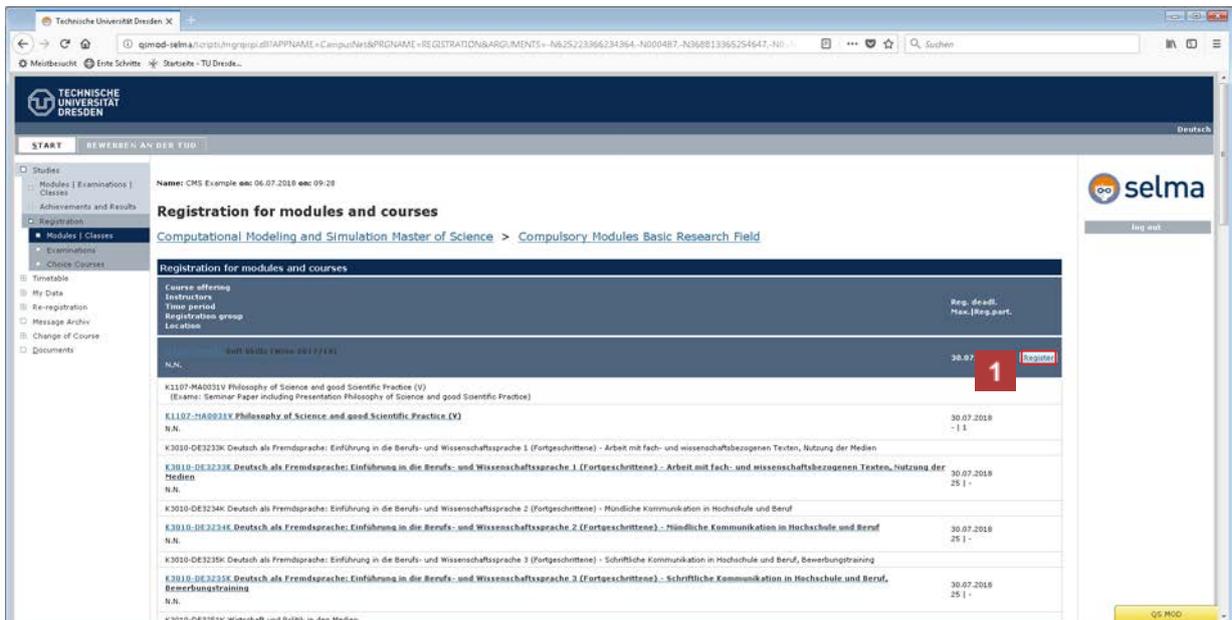

1.1 Registering for a module

1 Click on the Studies tab.

- 1 Under Studies, click Registration.
- 2 Under Registration and Simulation, click Modules | Classes.
- 3 Click the required structure of the course regulations. We are using Compulsory Modules of Basic Education as an example here.

- 1 Click the Register button of the selected module. We are using the "Soft Skills" module as an example here.

 You must register for the corresponding module before you can register for a course.

1 Click the Next button.

This page shows you your registered module for information purposes only.

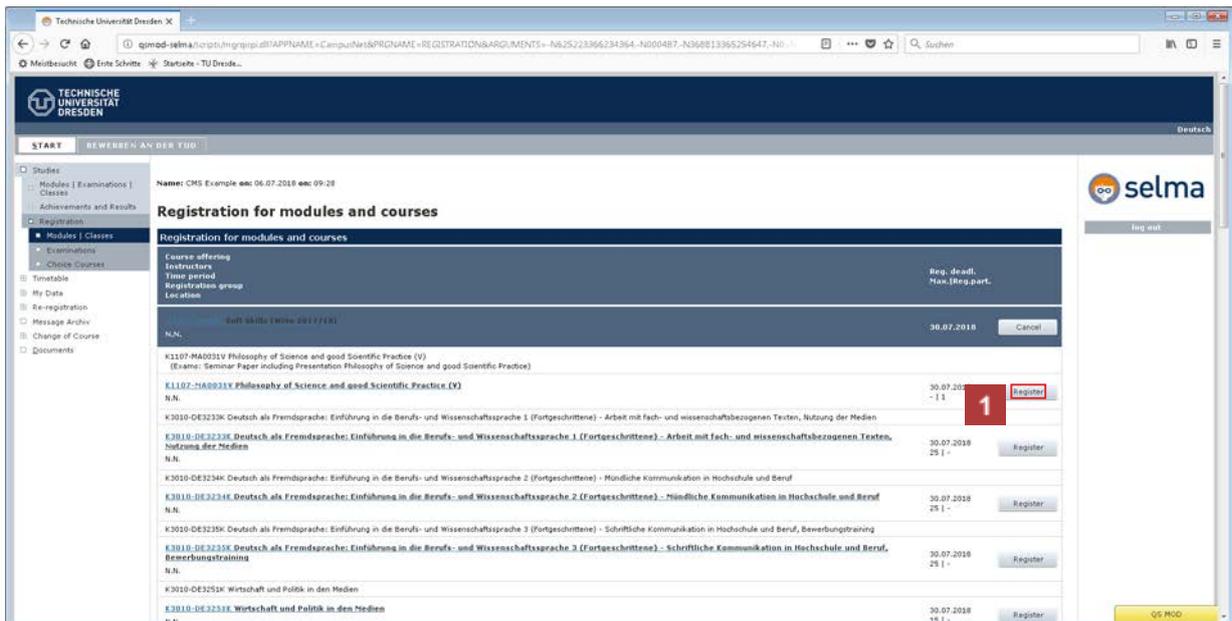

1 To register for the module, click the Submit button.

1.2 Registering for a course

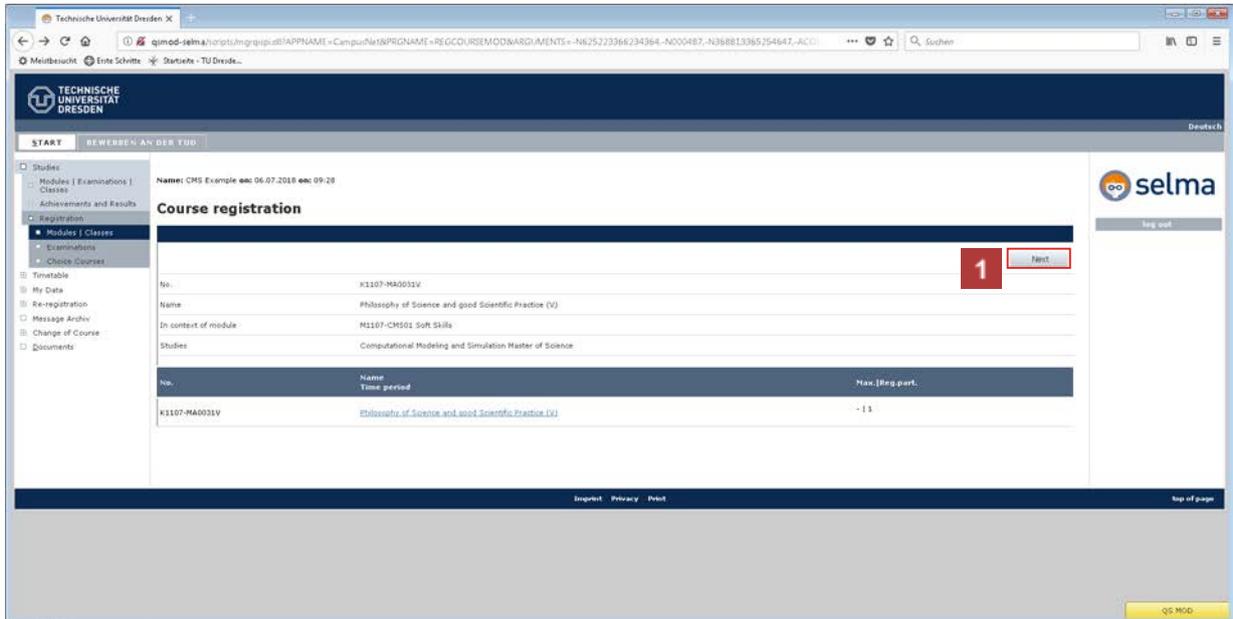

1 After you have registered for a module, click the Back to Registration button to register for courses in the module or for other modules.

1 Click the Register button for a course. "Philosophy of Science and good Scientific Practice" is used as an example here.

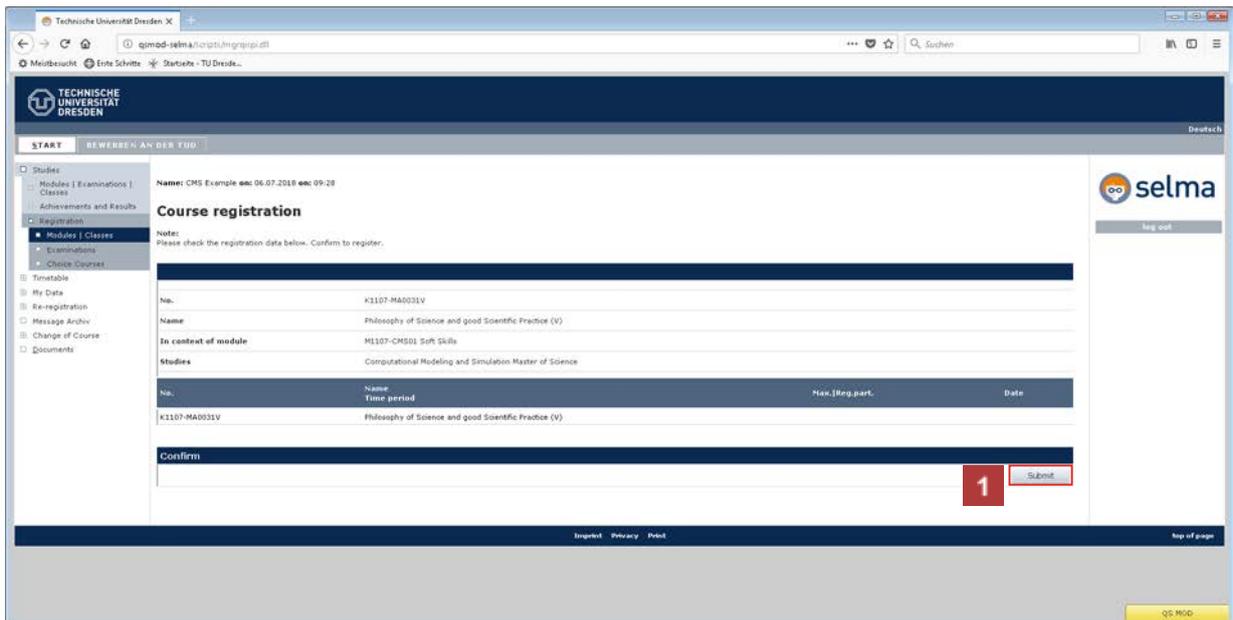

This module contains a course catalogue. The exams required for this course are shown above.

1 Click the Next button.

For some courses you have to choose a group, depending on the prerequisites or your own preferences.

1 To register for a course, click the Submit button.

1.3 Overview/Withdrawal from registered modules and courses

The screenshot shows the selma portal interface. The left navigation bar has a red box around 'Modules | Examinations | Classes' with a red '1' next to it. The main content area displays 'Course registration' with a success message: 'Your registration has been successful.' Below this, there are fields for 'No.' (K1107-MA0031V), 'Name' (Philosophy of Science and good Scientific Practice (V)), and 'In context of module' (M1107-CMS101 Soft Skills). A table lists the registered modules:

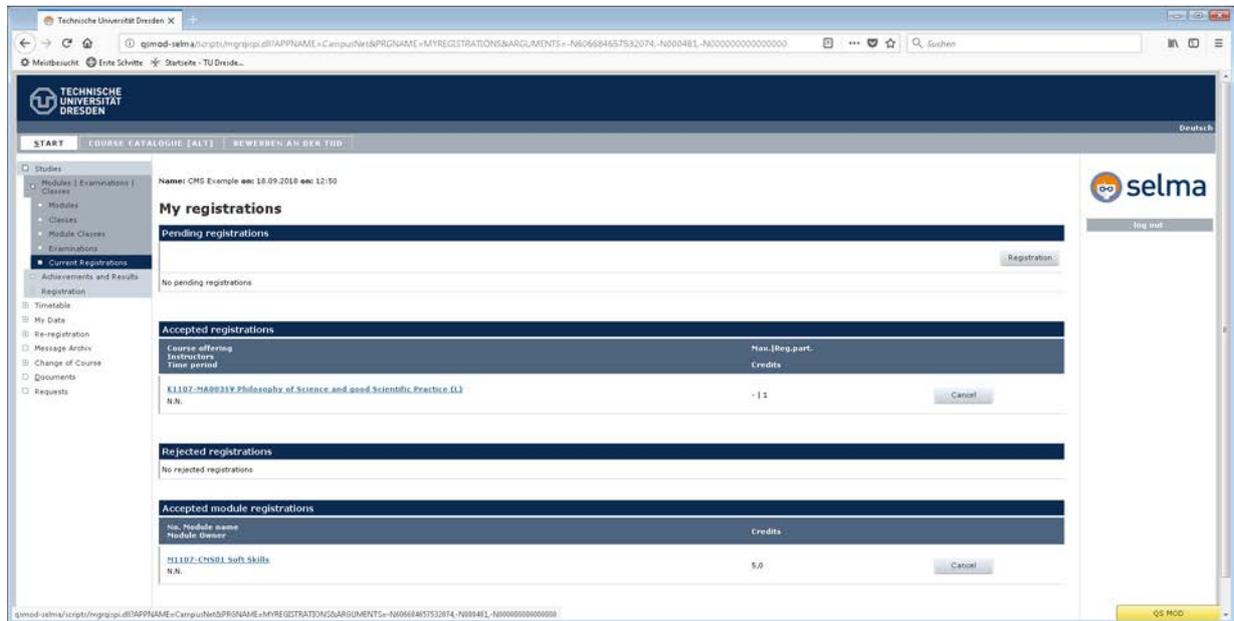

| No. | Name | Max. Reg. part. | Date |
|---------------|--|-----------------|------|
| K1107-MA0031V | Philosophy of Science and good Scientific Practice (V) | | |

1 For an overview of your registrations, click Studies in the navigation bar on the left, and Modules | Examinations | Classes.

1 Click Current Registrations.

Registrations may be pending if registration is subject to confirmation and places on the course have not been assigned yet. You will receive a message once the places are assigned.

🗨 To withdraw from a course/module, follow the same steps as for registration, but click Cancel.
