Where to find us...

How to find us...

The Institute of Lightweight Engineering and Polymer Technology (ILK) is located in Dresden-Johannstadt, not on the main campus of the TU Dresden (see map).

Travelling by car

On the motorway A4 (Chemnitz - Dresden - Bautzen), take exit Dresden-Hellerau (no. 81a). From there follow Radeburger Straße (later on named Hansastrasse) towards Dresden Zentrum. After 5 km, you pass Dresden Neustadt railway station. Continue towards Zentrum. On Große Meißner Straße, you pass the Bellevue Hotel on the righthand side and continue straight on passing Finanzministerium (ministry of finance) and Staatskanzlei (state chancellery), both on the righthand side as well. Still straight on, the Wigardstraße leads you to the Albert bridge. Cross the bridge and the subsequent square (Güntzplatz) and enter Güntzstraße straight ahead. Opposite the bright blue front of St. Benno high school, turn left into Holbeinstraße (second turning after Güntzplatz). In the second building to the left (no. 3), you find the head office of the ILK on the ground floor.

Travelling by tram/bus

The ILK can be reached with tram no. 13 or 6 as well as bus no. 62.

From Dresden main station, take tram no. 10 (destination Striesen) to Straßburger Platz (VW transparent factory). Change into tram no. 13 (destination Mickten, from same platform) and get off at Dürerstraße (2 stops from Straßburger Platz). The tram stops directly at the crossroads of Güntzstraße and Holbeinstraße.

From Dresden Neustadt railway station, use tram no. 6 (destination Niedersedlitz) and get off at Sachsenallee. Change into tram no. 13 (destination Prohlis, same platform). As the ILK is within walking distance from Sachsenallee, you may as well leave the tram stop, follow Güntzstraße and after some minutes turn left into Holbeinstraße.

From the city centre, get into the bus no. 62 (destination Johannstadt) at Prager Straße or Pirnaischer Platz. Exit at St.-Benno-Gymnasium. You may change into tram no. 13 (destination Mickten) and get off at the next stop (Dürerstraße). Alternatively, you may walk Güntzstraße along the blue front of St. Benno high school. The first turning point to the right (approx. 2 minutes) is Holbeinstraße.

Travelling by train

You may get off the train at Dresden Neustadt railway station or at Dresden Hbf (main station). From there, take the tram as described above.

Travelling by plane

When you arrive at Dresden airport, you may take a taxi or the airport train. The latter takes you to Dresden Neustadt railway station. From there, take tram no. 6 (see above).
