

The Carl Gustav Carus Faculty of Medicine invites applications for the

Chair (W3) of Immunology

to be filled at the earliest possible date.

The Institute of Immunology is dedicated to the study of the immune system in health and disease.

In the future, you will represent the field of immunology in teaching and research. The professorship will in particular strengthen the cross-sectional profile "immunology/inflammation" of the Faculty of Medicine and its interfaces with the research foci "oncological Diseases" and "metabolic Diseases" and will assume the leadership of the Institute of Immunology. We would like you to participate in existing research networks and to co-operate with institutions of TU Dresden as well as non-university research institutions. We are pleased that you want to inspire our students with your teaching concepts for your subject and welcome your commitment in academic self-administration.

Ideally, as a future position holder, you are already internationally known as a research personality in immunology and have corresponding experience in the acquisition of third-party funding as well as relevant and appropriate management and leadership experience. In addition, you have a successful, internationally visible publication record in immunology. We place particular emphasis on the areas of immunometabolism, but also tumor immunology and/or autoimmunity. Prerequisites for appointment according to § 58 SächsHSFG are a university degree in medicine or natural sciences (e.g. biology, biochemistry, chemistry), doctorate and habilitation or equivalent achievement and extensive teaching experience.

The Faculty of Medicine seeks to employ more women in leadership positions and strongly encourages qualified women to apply. We also welcome applications from qualified candidates with disabilities or those with additional support needs.

Please send your application by February 20th 2022 in electronic form in a single PDF file or in hardcopy to Dekanin der Medizinischen Fakultät Carl Gustav Carus der Technischen Universität Dresden, Frau Prof. Dr. med.
