

Prof. Dr. Jan J. Weigand Biography

Name: Prof. Dr. Jan J. Weigand
Organization: TU Dresden
Profile Weblink: www.agweigand.de http://www.chm.tu-dresden.de/ac3/
Jan J. Weigand obtained his diploma in chemistry in 2002 and his Dr. rer nat. in 2005 from the LMU in Munich. He was awarded in 2005 with the Bavarian culture prize and obtained a Lynen Scholarship from the AvH foundation for postdoctoral research at Dalhousie University in Halifax (Canada). He returned to Germany with a "Lynen Return Fellowship" and started his habilitation at the WWU Münster end of 2007 under the supervision of Prof. Hahn. He was awarded shortly after with the Liebig scholarship of the FCI which allowed him in 2008 to start his independent career. In April 2010 he became fellow of the very prestigious Emmy Noether research program awarded by the DFG and obtained recently the Wöhler research award for young scientist. Very recently, in July 2012, he also obtained from the EC (European council) an "ERC starting grant" which additionally funds his research for another 5 years. Since 1.01.2013 he is Full-Professor at the TU University Dresden. His group is interested in multiply charged and neutral main group element compounds, their reactivities in synthesis and sustainable applications and inorganic coordination chemistry. Since 1.02.2015 he is professor for inorganic molecular chemistry at the TU Dresden and since this time he research focus now also includes industrial inorganic chemistry and heterogeneous catalysis.

Awards and Scholarships:

April 2013	Chemiedozentenstipendium Fonds der Chemischen Industrie (FCI)
September 2012	„ERC Starting Grant 2012“ European Research Council
September 2011	Research award „Dr. Röhm-Gedächtnisstiftung“
30. September 2010	Wöhler Award for Young Scientists Wöhler-Vereinigung für Anorganische Chemie
June 2010 – May 2015	Acceptance as Emmy Noether Research fellow German Research Foundation (DFG)
April 2008 – July 2010	Liebig Fellowship Fonds der Chemischen Industrie (FCI)
October 2007 – April 2008	Lynen Return Fellowship Alexander v. Humboldt Foundation
October 2005 – September 2007	Lynen Postdoctoral Fellowship Alexander v. Humboldt Foundation
20. October 2005	Bavaria Culture Award E.ON Bayern AG
March 2003 – March 2005	Chemie fonds Fellowship Fonds der Chemischen Industrie (FCI)
31. January 2002	Award for best Diploma Ludwig-Maximilians-University