Dear colleagues,

Due to the Corona crisis, the SLUB has had to close its doors and go into emergency operations. Your library is, however, still there for you. The staff are diligently working from home and supporting you behind the scenes for the start of the summer semester with expanded digital services. For example:

- You can still register for the library online. If you would like to apply for a new account or renew your SLUB card, please use the contact form.
- The diverse range of advisory services now take place online (e.g. via Skype with audio/video) or by telephone. You can book an appointment here.
- An increasing number of publishers and database providers are making their services more accessible. As a member of the TU Dresden, you also benefit from this. Please find an overview of this extended range of e-media here (is continually updated). The SLUB has and will continue to increase the range of e-tutorials: for example, Zitat statt Plagiat - Was, warum und wie zitieren?! (Quotation Instead of Plagiarism - what, why and how to quote?) is fresh from the oven. You can find a complete overview of our SLUB tutorials here.
- The PurchaseTip service continues as normal. The library will still order your desired media even though it is physically closed. Please use this form. If possible, they will try to purchase the electronic versions. If the medium is only available in printed or physical form, please get in contact with the SLUB. They will try to find the best solution for each individual case.

You can find detailed information on all current services at www.slubdd.de/corona.

You can also keep up to date by following the SLUB on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram. Your subject specialists and other contact partners can still be reached by telephone on their respective extensions.”
Best regards
