Legal basis for the processing of personal data:

The legal basis for the processing of personal data is Art. 6 (1) sentence 1 lit. a) DSGVO (consent).

Personal data processed, data processing, storage period, and communicating data

Only the contact data provided by you in the online form will be processed. The data you have provided for contact mediation will be processed as follows:

- Recording of your data in directorate 9
- Allocation of two contact seekers to each other at random by directorate 9
- Passing on of the contact seekers' data within the allocated pair constellation by directorate 9

Your personal data will be deleted four weeks at the latest after its passing on to the partner allocated to you within the frame of "TUDGemeinsam statt Einsam".

Please note, however, that the TUD has no influence on how the partner allocated to you handles your data. After your data has been passed on by directorate 9 to your partner, the TUD has no influence on its deletion or passing on by the partner allocated to you.

The rights of the persons concerned

In order to exercise your rights, a written notification (email or letter) to the persons responsible is sufficient.

The provision of personal data is voluntary. Consent to the processing of personal data may be revoked at any time with the result that the personal data of the person concerned are not processed further.

The person concerned has the right to request information at any time about the data processed concerning her/him and the possible recipients of such data. S/he may at any time request the TU Dresden to correct or delete her/his personal data or to restrict processing. In the event of a complaint, s/he can contact the supervisory authority in charge of data protection.
