

Seminar: Law and Morality in International Relations

Wintersemester 2011/2012

Nicolas Lamp, LL.M., M.A., B.A.

PhD Candidate, Law Department, London School of Economics and Political Science

N.Lamp@lse.ac.uk

Dates and Times

18th November: 14.50 – 18.10

19th November: 9.20 – 18.10

20th November: 9.20 – 14.30

Presentations

Presentations (10-12 min) will be structured around one or two key readings or a case study. In the former case, students are expected to present and discuss the arguments put forward in the key reading(s). In the latter case, students are expected to base their presentation on a wider range of literature and materials. Participants should email me by 21st October, indicating two topics (1st and 2nd preference) which they would be interested in presenting.

Seminar Papers

Students are free to choose topics for seminar papers (minimum 4000 words) as long as they are related to the topic of the seminar (they do not have to be based on the presentation). The papers will be due in spring (exact date to be determined). I will strongly support anyone who wants to attempt to publish their seminar paper with feedback and advice.

Audit

Students are welcome to audit the seminar. However, anyone who is auditing the course is expected to present a 5-minute commentary on one of the key readings/case studies. Students who would like to audit the course should email me by 21st October, indicating a topic which they would like to comment on.

A bit about myself

I am a PhD Candidate at the Department of Law at the London School of Economics and Political Science, writing on lawmaking in the multilateral trading system. I hold a B.A. in International Relations from Dresden (IB 02), a Master in International Relations from Jacobs University, Bremen, and an LL.M. in Public International Law from the LSE. During my PhD, I spent one year as a Visiting Fellow at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.. Starting in January 2012, I will take up a post as Legal Officer in the Appellate Body Secretariat at the World Trade Organization.

I can be reached at N.Lamp@lse.ac.uk. Please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions that might arise.